Answer Sheet for New King James Version (NKJV) Chapters 25 - 28

ACTS 25 - PAUL'S TRIAL BEFORE FESTUS

Festus, wanting to do the Jews a favor (Acts 25:9a). Though he was a good man, Festus also understood that it was important for him to have and keep a good relationship with the Jewish people of his province.

Are you willing to go up to Jerusalem and there be judged before me concerning these things? (Acts 25:9b) Festus found it difficult to decide the case. Paul's standing as a Roman citizen apparently prevented Festus from commanding the trial to be moved to Jerusalem, so he asked Paul about this.

So Paul said, "I stand at Caesar's judgment seat, where I ought to be judged...I appeal to Caesar." (Acts 25:10-11) Paul saw through the plot against his life. Perhaps it was through supernatural knowledge, or perhaps through God-given common sense and deduction. Therefore, he demanded to stand trial before Caesar.

Paul's appeal made sense. He was convinced that the evidence was on his side and that he could win in a fair trial. He also had reason to wonder if his current judge (Festus) was sympathetic to his accusers, the religious leaders among the Jews.

It was the right of every Roman citizen to have his case heard by Caesar himself, after initial trials and appeals failed to reach a satisfactory decision. This was in effect an appeal to the supreme court of the Roman Empire.

Paul appealed specifically to Caesar Nero, who was later a notorious enemy of Christians. But the first five years of his reign, under the influence of good men around him, Nero was regarded as a wise and just ruler. Paul had no reason at this time to believe that Nero would be anti-Christian.

1. (vs. 25:2-3) What was the reason for the chief priests and Jewish leaders to have Paul moved from Caesarea to Jerusalem ?
they lay in ambush along the road to kill him.

2. (v. 25:7) What was the outcome of the Jews who had come down from Jerusalem that had serious charges/complaints against Paul ?
they could not prove any charges

3. (v. 25:8) When Paul made his defense/answered for himself, what three things does Paul mention that he had not done wrong against?
 1. law of the Jews

 2. against the temple

 3. against Caesar

4. (v. 25:9) Why did Festus ask Paul “Are you willing to go up to Jerusalem and there be judged before me concerning these things”?
Festus, wanting to do the Jews a favor

5. (v. 25:12) Paul, knowing he had done nothing wrong, made a statement to Festus. After that statement what was the only answer that Festus could have made?
“You have appealed to Caesar? To Caesar you shall go!”

6. (vs. 25:15-16) Festus laid Paul’s case before king Agrippa, saying: “There is a certain man left a prisoner by Felix, about whom the chief priests and the elders of the Jews informed me. How did Festus tell the king how he handled it with the Jewish leaders?
‘It is not the custom of the Romans to deliver any man to destruction before the accused meets the accusers face to face, and has opportunity to answer for himself concerning the charge against him.’

7. (v. 25: 24) When King Agrippa and Bernice came to visit Festus, he discussed Paul's case with them. What did the Jewish chief priest and elders want to happen to Paul ?

he was not fit to live any longer.

8. (vs. 25:26-27) Festus is in a dilemma about Paul. The Jewish leaders really didn't have any evidence on the charges they brought up about Paul, and Paul had made a plea to be judged by Caesar in Rome. What does it seem he is wanting King Agrippa to help him with before he sends Paul to Rome?

For it seems to me unreasonable to send a prisoner and not to specify the charges against him."
He wanting him to help write a charge against Paul.

Notes: Festus simply could not send Paul to Caesar with a letter that said: "I really don't know what this man is accused of and he is probably innocent of any wrongdoing, but I thought I should send him to you anyway." That was no way to be popular with Caesar.

1. (vs. 26:2-3) When Paul was permitted to speak, what did he feel fortunate/happy about?

"I think myself happy, King Agrippa, because today I shall answer for myself before you concerning all the things of which I am accused by the Jews."

Why did he especially feel fortunate/happy to be speaking to King Agrippa?

Paul knew he was as an expert in all customs and questions which have to do with the Jews.

2. (v. 26:5) Paul starts out by saying that the Jewish leaders know that he lived according to the strictest sect of our religion. What was that sect? Pharisee

3. (v. 26:6) What did Paul reveal why he was on trial/judged?
the hope of the promise made by God to our fathers.

4. (v. 26:8) What question does Paul ask:
why would they think it would be incredible what God could do?
that God raises the dead

5. (vs. 26:9-10) What all did Paul claim he did because he was convinced to do all that was possible to oppose the name of Jesus of Nazareth?
many of the saints I shut up in prison, having received authority from the chief priests; and when they were put to death, I cast my vote against them.

6. (v. 26:11) What exceeding steps did Paul say he did to try and punish these followers of Jesus ?
I persecuted them even to foreign cities.

7. (vs. 26:16-18) In this testimony that Paul gives to King Agrippa, Jesus reveals to him who he is to witness to, open their eye to, from the power of, and forgiveness of. Please name these?
Witness to: the Gentiles
Open their eyes to: in order to turn them from darkness to light
From the power of: Satan to God
Forgiveness of: sins
8. (v. 26:24) What point did Festus make that he said caused Paul to be out of his mind/ beside yourself/insane?
Much learning is driving you mad!
9. (v. 26:29) What was the prayer that Paul had for all who were listening to him?
I would to God that not only you, but also all who hear me today, might become both almost and altogether such as I am
10. (vs. 26:30-31) At the end of Paul's speech the king rose, and with him the governor and Bernice and those sitting with him. And when they had gone aside, they talked among themselves, saying what?
"This man is doing nothing deserving of death or chains."
11. (v. 26:32) According to King Agrippa and Festus why could Paul not be set free at this time?
if he had not appealed to Caesar.
12. This chapter sounds like Paul pleading his case for freedom, but let's examine 2 verses.
Read Acts 23:11 No matter what the outcome was, God had already assured Paul that he was going to Rome. Now:

Acts 27 is an account of a famous sea voyage. Paul, Luke, and Aristarchus travel from Caesarea Maritima on their way to Rome. False charges and two years of imprisonment in Caesarea led Paul to appeal his case to a higher Roman court, and he is now on his way to that court. The chapter can be divided into seven paragraphs, alternating between descriptions of the sea voyage and Paul trying to keep everyone alive during a horrific storm. Eventually, they shipwreck on Malta. The ship and cargo are a complete loss, but no one dies.

Acts 27:33–38 places Paul at the center of the action once again. His ship has been storm-tossed and lost for two weeks. The 276 passengers have finally reached land, but don't know what rocks or reefs are between them and safety. The centurion has prevented the crew's escape attempt (Acts 27:27–32). Now, Paul brings everyone together to do something they haven't been able to in fourteen days: eat. They share bread and jettison the remaining cargo. Once dawn breaks, the crew sails the ship closer to land, but the ship gets hung up on a reef. Eventually, however, everyone makes it to shore (Acts 27:39–44).

1. (v. 27:2) Once again, here in verse 2 we see the word “we”. Who is this referring to?
Luke, the writer of Acts
2. (vs. 27:2-3) Who was with Paul and Luke and where was he from, when they set sail for Rome ? Aristarchus, a Macedonian of Thessalonica, was with us.
3. (v. 27:3) The next day when they landed in Sidon, what did the centurion/captain Julius allow Paul to do?
Julius treated Paul kindly and gave him liberty to go to his friends and receive care.
4. (v. 27:14) What was the first sign of a bad storm that blew the ship off course?
a tempestuous head wind arose, called Euroclydon.
5. (vs. 27:18-19) What did they do next to try and lighten the ship?
On the third day we threw the ship’s tackle overboard
6. (vs. 27:22-27 In your own words write out how we know Paul was able to reassure all the men on board that no one on the ship would lose their life in this storm.
7. (vs. 27:43-44) Why did the centurion/commanding officer overturn the soldier’s plan to kill the prisoners ? wanting to save Paul,
What was his alternate plan?
that those who could swim should jump overboard first and get to land, and the rest, some on boards and some on parts of the ship.

1. (v. 28:1) What was the name of the island that Paul had shipwrecked on ? Malta
What bigger island was it next to? (hint: look at the map) Sicily
2. (v. 28:3) What happened to Paul as he was gathering brushwood/sticks ?
a viper came out because of the heat, and fastened on his hand.
3. (vs. 28:4) What did the people from the island think was going to happen to Paul after the viper/snake bit him ?
they were expecting that he would swell up or suddenly fall down dead.

What did happen to Paul after the viper/snake bite?
But after they had looked for a long time and saw no harm come to him
4. (v. 28:6) What did the islanders think of Paul when nothing happened to him after the viper/snake bite?
they changed their minds and said that he was a god.
5. (vs. 28:7-9) There was an estate of the leading citizen/chief officer of the island, whose name was Publius, who received them and entertained them courteously for three days. And it happened that the father of Publius lay sick of a fever. What became of the father?
Paul went in to him and prayed, and he laid his hands on him and healed him.
6. (v. 28:11) How long did Paul stay on the island of Malta ? three months

Paul Finally makes it to Rome

Paul has wanted to go to Rome for years (Romans 1:11). Jesus has promised he will get there (Acts 23:11), a promise Paul embraced in full faith. What he didn't know was the path would include two years under house arrest in Caesarea Maritima (Acts 24:27), a terrible winter storm on a ship in the middle of the Mediterranean Sea, and a shipwreck (Acts 27). Fortunately, the ship sank just off the coast of Malta, where kind locals became more than generous after Paul provided healing for their sick (Acts 28:1–10).

Now, winter is ending and ship traffic resumes, as it typically does the first week of February. Another Alexandrian ship, probably one almost identical to the ship they had lost, has moored at Malta and agreed to take them on. The "twin gods" are the Greek gods Castor and Pollux, twin sons of Jupiter/Jesus and the divinities of sailors.

Malta is a small island directly south of Sicily. Sicily is a larger island off the "toe" of Italy's boot-like shape. The ship will travel north and skim the eastern coast of Sicily, first landing at Syracuse on the southeastern shore, and then at Rhegium on the toe of Italy, itself. From there they will sail up the western coast of Italy to Puteoli where Paul, Aristarchus, and Luke will disembark. As they walk the last few miles to Rome, they will encounter several Christ-followers who provide support and encouragement. Paul will spend two years under house arrest with the time to write and the freedom to teach anyone who will visit (Acts 28:12–31).

7. (v. 28:16) Once Paul arrived in Rome (as a prisoner) what were his living arrangements ?

Paul was permitted to dwell by himself with the soldier who guarded him.

8. (v. 28:17) After only being in Rome a short time, Paul called together the Jewish leaders to explain what to them?

Men and brethren, though I have done nothing against our people or the customs of our fathers, yet I was delivered as a prisoner from Jerusalem into the hands of the Romans,

9. (vs. 28:18-20) A big part of the reason Paul wanted to speak to the Jewish leaders, was to make sure they knew what?

That Paul was compelled to appeal to Caesar, not that he had anything of which to accuse his nation. For this reason therefore Paul have called for the Jews, to see them and speak to them because for the hope of Israel.

- 10.(v. 28:20) Why does Paul say he was bound with chains?

because for the hope of Israel I am bound with this chain."

- 11.(vs. 28:21-22) How did the Jewish leaders respond to Paul after he made the statement in verses 28:17-20 ?

"We neither received letters from Judea concerning you, nor have any of the brethren who came reported or spoken any evil of you. But we desire to hear from you what you think; for concerning this sect, we know that it is spoken against everywhere."

- 12.(vs. 28:17-23) In your own words, what was Paul's reason to speak to this Jewish audience?

- 13.(v. 28:23) What manner did Paul use to try and persuade the Jewish leaders about who Jesus was?

from both the Law of Moses and the Prophets

- 14.(v. 28:28) After Paul quoted Isaiah 6:9-10 (most of his audience knew where he was quoting from) what was he leading up to?

that the salvation of God has been sent to the Gentiles, and they will hear it!

15. (v. 28:31) Two big points are made about Paul's style of witnessing.

What are these points?

1. with all confidence
2. no one forbidding him.

At the end of Peter's first sermon in Acts 2:14-41,
Luke records one of the most profound verses in all of scripture.

Acts 2:38

Peter said to them, "Repent, and each of you be baptized in the name of Jesus Christ for the forgiveness of your sins;
and you will receive the gift of the Holy Spirit.

Steps to Salvation:

1. Hearing the Word. Romans 10:17
2. Admit our sins. 1 John 1:9
3. Repentance. Acts 3:19
4. Accepting Christ as Lord and Savior. Romans 10:9
5. Indwelling of the Holy Spirit. John 14:17

A verse to underline and memorize

*the Spirit of truth, whom the world cannot receive,
because it neither sees Him nor knows Him;
but you know Him,
for He dwells with you and will be in you.
John 14:17*
